

Word of the President

On this tenth anniversary of its foundation, the Association des Mercier d'Amérique du Nord (AMAN) takes stock. The management transmits to the public data and facts concerning realizations of our young family association. The facts and figures grouped in the following tables presented in this issue of the liaison bulletin speak by themselves. These results proceed from the constant efforts of hundreds of devoted benevolent people who work at the local, regional, provincial, canadian, continental and even international levels. In your name and those of the administrators, I thank them warmly and call other benevolent persons who want to take over.

Salaberry-de-Valleyfield, dont le nom reflète la dualité linguistique du Canada, vit, avec son port de plaisance et ses régates internationales, au rythme du majestueux Saint-Laurent.

◆ Ville de Salaberry-de-Valleyfield; Pierre Langevin.

This year, the annual meeting of the Merciers and the member's assembly will take place at the Club Nautique de la Ville de Salaberry-de-Valleyfield, on Saturday, September the 9th, 1995. The Merciers and their relatives are the guests of the Société d'histoire et de généalogie of the region that has mandated Robert Mercier to organize the meeting. Let's walk on the Mercier's pioneer steps who have accomplished a lot in the fields of the fur trade, in the exploration of the North American continent, in the defense of Nouvelle-France, in the evangelization of the American Indians, in the conquest of the soil and in politics. Your leaders are waiting for you to tell again, together, our attachment to our ancestors of which we are proud.

Jean Mercier, president

E.M. 1995-05-16

On Monday, last March 13, the AMAN Board of directors had a regular meeting at the Restaurant l'Ultra of the Motel Trans-Canada at Villeroy. Different questions were on the Agenda and between others, the changes to bring to Le Mercien, the establishing and consolidation of regional committees, the recruiting of members, the sources of financing, the reunion of 1997. A picture, taken on this occasion, allows us to see reunited most of the members of the Conseil d'administration 1994-1995. You have, from left to right : Marie, Lucie, Benoit, André, David H., Jean, Benoit, Françoise and Ernest. Paul H. and Lionel were not able to be there.

Correction to Tome 7 - Dorchester - by Eloi Gérard

A correction must be made to Tome 7 entitled Recueil de généalogie des comtés de Beauce, Dorchester-Frontenac 1925-1946 and published by Eloi-Gérard (Talbot), at Lévis, in 1948.

The first name «Ignace» must be replaced by «Lazare» at the progeny 64, on page 266. In fact, the vision of the film 53163 of the Québec National Archives reveals that Philomène Lebebvre, known as Boulanger, was married, on 1861-07-16, to Lazare Mercier, minor son of Lazare Mercier (father) and Christine Beaudoin, in the parish of Saint-Anselme-de-Lauzon.

Charles Mercier et Anne Berthelot eurent onze (11) enfants : un (1) seul fils et dix (10) filles.

Après la 6e génération, toutefois, le couple Charles et Anne ne comptait que cinq garçons sur six qui ont laissé leur nom de famille Mercier à peu de descendants de cette petite lignée.

Charles Mercier and Anne Berthelot had eleven (11) children : only one son (1) and ten(10) daughters. However, after the sixth (6) generation, that couple had only five boys out of six who left their Mercier family name to a few descendants of that small line.

The centenarian Rose-Ilda Mercier
Summary of her biographical notes

Parents : Anthyme Mercier and Rose Frappier

Birth : December the 3rd 1894 at Rivière-Ouelle, Québec, Canada

Accident : Stiff knee following a fall in childhood.

Education : Limoilou convent, Québec city, to become a school teacher.

Child and adolescent : On a settler's lot at Lac de l'Est, Québec.

First wedding : On August 28, 1922 with David Desjardins from Mont-Carmel (Kamouraska) Québec.

Moving : To the Abitibi district as pioneer family of Saint-Benoît-Lacorne, en 1935.

Children : Seven of her nine children are still alive.

Widowhood : Death of her first husband, David Desjardins, in 1961.

Second marriage : Rose-Ilda was married (second time) to Henri Boisvert on September 20, 1962, who passed away 10 years later at St. Benoit-Lacorne.

Residence : For the last 21 years, she is living at the Harricana rest residence, in Amos (Abitibi, Québec), since April 10, 1974.

Leisure of yore : Reading, knitting, crochet work, making fancy cushions. In spite of her advanced age, Rose-Ilda is still lucid, much interested to know about the performance of all her children and their progeny.

Devotion and pleasure of living : To her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Elderly wish : Rose-Ilda would like to begin her life anew tomorrow but not in an old-age home. She still wants to live for many years with her progeny.

Editor's comment : «My mother — who gave birth to 17 (seventeen) children of whom 13 lived over 50 years of age, who choked herself in lunching (May 1967) at the age of 89, — used to say : "Si vieillesse pouvait et si jeunesse voulait" : if the aged people could and if the young people wanted". When she was asked what she meant to say, she gladly answered : "If old people could do their life again and if young people wanted to obey their parents' advice, how life would be more easy for parents and children"!

Too bad Rose-Ilda, such is parenthood!

Both members of a human couple can build only one genetic biological bridge between themselves and each of one of their children. The only hope parents can have is that each one of their children will improve the quality of the linking bridge he will eventually build with her or his partner between two future generations of human beings.

Merciers in the lime light

The Association des Mercier d'Amérique du Nord is happy to announce that some Mercier have drawn the media's attention and been the object of articles in the Quebec region. In Le Soleil, Saturday, December 10, it was mentioned that the restaurant Le Chanoine Kir, located on Cartier Avenue, Québec City, was sold to two french people, a mother and her son, Linda and Michel Mercier, who are residents of Quebec City since November 1994.

On Saturday, January 28, 1995, also in Le Soleil, the manufacturer Planchers Mercier of Montmagny was praised concerning his success in the field of manufacturing prevarnished hardwood floors which are now equipped with an acoustic membrane called Avantage.

On February 21, 1995, the Journal de Québec mentioned that Informatique Mercier of Sainte-Foy takes the lead on the Electronic Highway since the enterprise is now one of the main stockholders of Astral Telecom, specialist in telephony for the last 12 years.

On the 29th of last February, in the reflections of the enterprise, Le Soleil mentioned that the enterprise «Les Scies Mercier de Lévis, the only manufacturer of shingle saws in Canada, was taken over by Mr. Gilles Garant. It was formerly managed successively by Napoléon, Joseph, and is now by René Mercier who is sure, with his wife Gisèle, that their two sons, Yves and Patrick, will take over,

The Mercier in the World

The AMAN's members who bought the book entitled Le Livre des Mercier du monde entier, at the end of 1994, have probably received the delivery of Héritage familial Halbert before the beginning of the New Year. Does the book please the purchasers? Let us look it over from the standpoint of content and technique.

On the point of view of content, the book is well presented. You can find in it, as in the three english versions of that book already published, a lot of recent statistics. They relate to the migration of human beings, their origin, the colonization, the origin of family names, the meaning of the Mercier patronym, the granting, by the State, of coats of arms to medieval families, the list of the first Mercier immigrants who came in North America and in other countries of the French and British colonial empires.

Techniques of genealogy and the way to discover the ancestors are well presented. You can find the name and the address of places where you can get information on the immigrants countries where the Mercier live, among others : France, Canada and the U.S.A. (See on page 9, the table of page 6-I of the Livre des Mercier du monde entier).

Moreover, you can find, in the second part of the book mentioned above, the name, the address and the Postal Code of about 25000 Mercier households in the world.

In spite of the general interest evoked by the book for the amateurs of familial genealogy, of lineal ancestry titles in North America, it would be advantageous for them to consult the repertory of weddings, burials and births available in such a great number in Québec, Canada, and U.S.A. The north americans residents are lucky to live in countries where the churches have preserved, for the states, the family registers which serve well the genealogy amateurs. These precious documents can be consulted at the National Archives of Québec, of Canada and the U.S.A.

LE REGISTRE INTERNATIONAL DES MERCIER

de registres contenant des noms et adresses ont été fouillés afin de localiser les membres de la famille MERCIER.

Les sources de ces registres comprennent les listes électorales, les annuaires téléphoniques, les répertoires des villes et diverses listes publiques contenant des noms de famille.

Maple Sugar party (1995)

Eighty-five persons (Mercier and relatives) participated in the sugaring off party on Saturday, April 22, at Ste-Clothilde-de-Beauce. The place is attractive : the saphouse is very spacious. It is well organized and the sugar installation very modern.

The leaders of the Association profitted of the meeting to lay the foundations of the AMAN-BEAUCE regional committee whose territory will be specified in the following mounts. Congratulations of the managing team of the new structure. The AMAN managers wish you a good success in the recruiting work which will become, without any doubt, more marked (See Tableau 3).

The Beauceron team thanks very sincerely the BOIS-FRANCS team that helped organizing the AMAN-BEAUCE regional committee (See Picture below).
