The association was incorporated by letters patent dated April 19, 1985 and registered the same day in Volume 1184, folio 160, in accordance with Part III of the Quebec Companies Act (R.S.Q. Chap. C-38, s. 218).

The objects of the association are as follows:

1. To organize Mercier gatherings in North America and especially in the Province of Quebec.
2. To publish regularly in Quebec, in the form of a newsletter, information on Mercier families of North America and Europe.
3. To collect and disseminate information on the accomplishments of those who have brought recognition to the Mercier name throughout the world.
4. To promote the identification, restoration and preservation of buildings and objects of value that belonged to Merciers, who have left their mark in North America and in Europe.
5. To get the Merciers of the world to become concerned about the preservation of their heritage, to become interested in genealogical studies and in stories about those who will not make it into the history books.
6. To create and develop a non-profit foundation whose purpose would be to achieve the objects mentioned above.
7. The objects will not, however, permit donors or their beneficiaries to recover in any way the funds which will have been given to the corporation

This newsletter is named after the kingdom of Mercia which existed from the 7th to the 10th centuries. It was one of the seven original kingdoms constituting England. The inhabitants of that territory must have been called Mercians (or Mercien in French). We are proud to perpetuate that name today.

In his capacity as vice-president, Raynald Mercier of Sainte-Marie-de-Beauce acted as president of the annual meeting of the members on August 25 in Rimouski. He reviewed the work done by the board of directors during the last year and reported on the main topics of discussion.

At the annual meeting, Johanne of Charlesbourg and Raynald of Sainte-Marie-de-Beauce decided not to stand for re-election to the board. The association regrets their decision, but understands their motives and is happy to be able to count on their support and cooperation to the achievement of AMAN's future activities and initiatives.

Three new members were elected to the board of directors: Claudine Mercier of Sainte-Foy, Benoît Mercier of Charlesbourg and Jean of Québec City. AMAN welcomes them to the board and extends its congratulations and wishes for a successful mandate.

During the meeting, recognition was given to Regimental Sergeant-Major Mario Mercier of Valcartier who died in action in Afghanistan while serving with the Canadian armed forces. A feature article on page 11 highlights Mario's qualities as a man and as a soldier.

We are proud to admit several new members who have been recruited in the Sainte-Sabine area on the occasion of the unveiling of a monument to the memory of Captain Louis Mercier and his wife Adèle Audet. Here is a good example of solidarity with the Merciers and we gratefully acknowledge the dedication of those who solicited new members on that occasion, in particular Mrs Cecilia of Lac Beauport who spearheaded the effort. We have a report on page 8 on the unveiling of the monument and a history of Captain Louis Mercier will appear in the next issue.

Le Mercien is always looking for news and articles concerning Merciers and their families. Please, send us your written material along with photographs so as to complement your presentations. Do not hesitate to recruit new members among your family members.

Roger Mercier A Sculptor at Heart

Thanks to Jean-Louis from Lévis, we have discovered his cousin, the talented woodcarver Roger Mercier. So as to get to know Roger better, we should let him explain to us what sculpting means to him.

“When I tell you the year I was born in, you will understand what effect it had on the course of my life.

I had the good fortune to have wonderful parents: my father Adrien and my mother Marie Anna. It was the middle of the depression in 1935; my parents lived in Lévis, just to the south of Quebec City. My father was a plumber by trade and he decided to move to Amos, a brand new town in the Abitibi Region. My mother had a sister who lived in the Abitibi town of Destor, and my parents got married in Destor in 1936. I was born in Amos on December 3, 1937.

The place was too depressing for my mother and my parents decided to go back to Lévis. After finishing junior high school, I attended the Lauzon trade school, where I studied carpentry by day and an electrician's trade by night for two years. One day my father told me: “You don't like school very much, so you should come and work with me”. From then on, I was at the right school, because my father wanted to show me that school was not so hard after all. But I was proud, and I worked for twenty years with my father, who was both my boss and my mentor. He taught me everything. My father was a most wonderful father to me.

I married Louise Leblanc on July 11, 1959 in the Cap-Saint-Ignace parish of Montmagny. We had two wonderful sons - Alain born in 1960 and Stéphane born in 1967.

During the years I was working for the Sisters of Notre-Dame-du-Bon-Conseil, I wanted to acquire a trade. I trained as a painter and a plasterer, which allowed me to qualify to get my tradesman's certificate.

I have always had a taste for adventure. After working twenty years in the same place, I quit my job to become responsible for some large apartment buildings. From 1975 to 1985, I was the superintendent for a 560 unit housing complex.

In September 1985, I decided to enrol in a woodcarving program at the Saint-Jean-Port-Joli school. I wanted to learn the proper technique and to improve my work. I was lucky enough to have Mr. Roger Bourgault as my teacher. It was wonderful to learn how to draw, to get to know the various species of wood, to make my own chisels, to do the tempering of the steel, and to know how to sharpen my tools. The secret of woodworking is to make quality gouges in the wood and to have an impeccable cut.

You have to love wood with a passion. My father used to tell me “You are like my father”. His father was an extraordinary carpenter; my grandfather was also very clever.

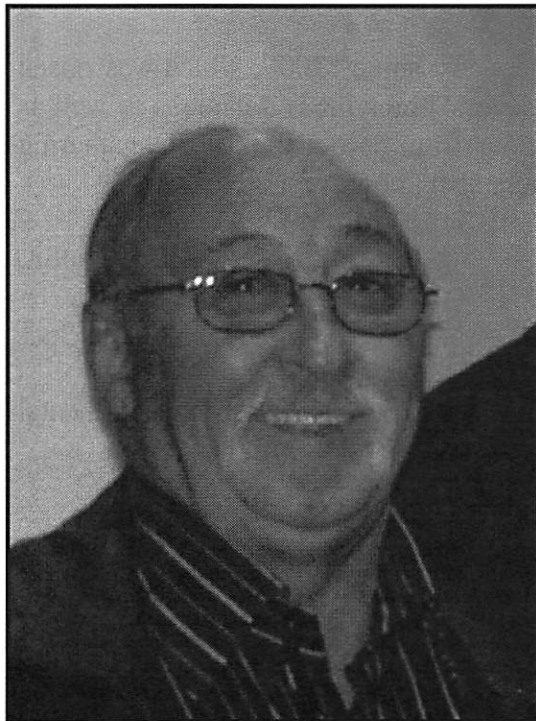

Now I look back and I can say that I had a beautiful life, in spite of some obstacles that made it sometimes difficult. I can say today that the best school of life I had was working beside my father, who taught me to be a good, honest and hard-working man.

Even though I am sixty-nine years old, I still miss my parents.

Thank you for reading my story. If I can help the Association of Merciers, I will always be pleased to do so.”

Roger Mercier is very proud to exhibit some pieces of his collection, in addition to the scene of the angelus presented on our front page.

Here is the artist, Roger Mercier, on the left. Do not hesitate to speak to him if you happen to meet with him at the genealogy family fair at Place Laurier in Sainte-Foy, Québec City, or at the annual sugar-bush outing in Saint-Henri de Lévis.

He will be pleased to entertain you about his passion for wood sculpture.

AMAN is proud to recognize the many talents of one of fierce supporters.

The Merciers Remember

With the permission of the author, André Poulin, we are delighted to reproduce here an article published under his name in La Voix du Sud on July 28, 2007. In an upcoming issue of the Mercien, we will include a biography of Captain Louis Mercier, also known as Lajoie, based on the souvenir album published on the occasion of the unveiling of the new tombstone for him and his wife.

Close to two hundred descendants of Captain Louis Mercier (Lajoie) and his wife Adèle Audet came to the St. Justine cemetery last Saturday July 21st, 2007 at the invitation of Mr. Gilmond Mercier (Lajoie).

The unveiling of the tombstone for Captain Mercier and his wife is the outcome of an invitation of a great-grandson of the Mercier-Audet couple. Mr. Gilmond Mercier from St. Sabine, who because of his interest in genealogy and in the life of his famous ancestor and his ancestor's wife, searched for signs of their grave in St. Justine's churchyard, where the farming couple was one of the founding families. But to no avail, the wooden cross that had served as a tombstone had disappeared. So he set out to find in the parish register the exact location of their grave and to erect a monument as a testimony to the life of that exceptional man, not only because of his size (6 ft 3 in and 325 lbs) but also because of his reputation.

That goal was achieved on Saturday July 21st, when close to 200 of the 1200 descendants of Captain Louis Mercier and his wife Adèle Audet met in the St. Justine Cemetery for the unveiling of the monument erected in memory of the couple. Since 2007 is the one-hundredth anniversary of Captain Louis Mercier's death, his descendants could not pay a more appropriate tribute to him.

Four of the Mercier-Audet couple's grandchildren were in fact present for the unveiling of the monument, which was followed by a mass celebrated in St. Sabine Church and then a friendly evening gathering among Merciers at the local community centre.

A fifty page brochure, written by Mr. Gilmond Mercier about the life of his famous ancestor, was made available to the guests. About a dozen photographs illustrate this brochure which, together with the new monument, will keep alive the memories of Captain Louis Mercier (Lajoie) 1847 - 1907 and his wife 1849 - 1911. The brochure notes his prestigious title of co-founder of the Dorchester and Beauce Regiment, as mentioned in his epitaph. The epitaph also shows a sheaf of wheat representing the farming occupation of the Mercier-Audet couple, as well as a dove, that is a symbol of peace.

The project cost some $2000, which was raised through several anonymous donations as well as contributions from participants at this gathering of Merciers also known as Lajoie.

Napoléon Mercier, his Wife Maria and his Father Eusèbe

Biographical Information

Napoléon Mercier

Napoléon was born on December 13, 1865 in St. Vallier. He died in Quebec City on September 9, 1920 and was buried in St. Charles Cemetery in Quebec City, next to his wife Maria, and his children Germaine, Jules Antoine, and Antoinette. He was married to Maria Nadeau, who was born on December 5, 1867 and died on either January 9th or 13th, 1931. Maria was the daughter of Maximin Nadeau and Philomène Fournier, and she was the sister of Joseph Nadeau. Napoléon and Maria were married on November 7, 1887 in St. Charles parish in Montreal.

Napoléon's Family

Napoléon's father was Eusèbe Mercier. Eusèbe's birth date is unknown, but he died on October 11, 1865 in St. Vallier at the age of 42, and was buried there. Napoléon's mother was Caroline Vézina, whose birth date also is unknown. She died in 1907, and was buried in St. Charles Cemetery in Quebec City, alongside Gabrielle, Delphis, and Delphis' wife Hélène Tanguay. Eusèbe and Caroline were married on January 10, 1853.

Napoléon's brothers and sisters were Marie-Louis who was born in Havre-St.-Pierre, Urbain-Eusèbe, Adolphe-Émile-Delphis (who was married to Hélène Tanguay on March 18, 1869 at Sacré-Coeur Hospital in Quebec City), Mathilde, Caroline, Amaryllis, Louise or Marie-Louise, and Gabrielle.

Napoléon's children were Antoinette (1896-1979), Léopold, Napoléon, Jules (1908 - 1928), Germaine (1884 - 1916), François, Jeanne, Thérèse, and Andrée (1910 - 1990).

Where Napoléon Lived throughout his Life

From a very young age, Napoléon was entrusted to the care of Joseph and Mary Bélanger, who were married in 1870, and were residents of St. Vallier, in Bellechasse. Napoléon's father had died on October 11, 1865 shortly before Napoléon's birth on December 13, 1865. No record has been found of Napoléon's early years. It is not known when he left St. Vallier. In 1887, the year Napoléon and Maria were married, they lived in Montreal (possibly in what is known as Point-St. Charles today). In 1901 it seems they were living in St. Hyacinthe. From 1908 to 1910, Napoléon and Maria lived first at No. 20 and then at No. 22 Laval Street, in the Palais area, between Hébert Street and St. Monique Street in Quebec City. From 1915 to 1920, the couple lived at No. 223 d'Aiguillon Street, also in Québec City.

Unveiling of the monument erected in memory of Captain Louis Mercier and his wife in the Sainte-Justine cemetery on July 21, 2007, in the presence of family and friends.

Napoléon's Occupations

From 1904 to 1920, Napoléon was the owner and operator of the St.-Paul Street grocery store. He took over from Louis Mercier, who was the first owner of that store from its opening in 1888. The address was at first No. 53 St. Paul Street, and then it became Nos. 113 - 117 St. Paul Street. From 1907 to 1919, Napoléon sailed the north shore with his two schooners, the Mary M. Romkey and the Hilda M. Backman. He was considered a trader. We know that at the time he got married in 1887, he lived in St. Charles in Montreal. It is not known what kind of work he was engaged in while in Montreal or even in 1901 when he was living in St. Hyacinthe.

Eusèbe and Napoléon Mercier at La Pointe-aux-Esquimaux (Havre-St. Pierre)

As taken from the writings of Placide Vigneau, Eusèbe Mercier, in October 1860, Louis Mercier of Berthier lost his life when his boat went down with all hands at Pointe St. Marie on the way back from Blanc Sablon (perhaps he was a close relative of Eusèbe?). On August 4, 1861, Eusèbe Mercier, a trader, arrived at La Pointe-aux-Esquimaux to settle here with his family, who had come down on the Marie-Luce. In the spring of 1862, he formed a partnership with Daniel Costin, who was from St. Charles parish in Quebec City. In October 1862, his partner Daniel Costin brought his own family down intending to stay a few years on the coast. In June 1862, Costin had bought, in Kégaska (a parish on the north shore), the Salmon Queen from Jean Giroux or Georges Morissette. In 1863, the Salmon Queen captured 38 seals. In 1864, the Salmon Queen wintered at La

Pointe-aux-Esquimaux, because of the lack of crewmen to go to the ice floes. On September 15, 1864, Costin and Mercier bought the Racer from Fenley McKenzie and Robert Hood of Prince Edward Island, who were hunting at the time on Anticosti Island. The buyers refloated her as she had been shipwrecked there the previous year

In 1865, the Racer wintered at La Pointe, while the Salmon Queen stayed put because nobody wanted to use her even though she was practically a new vessel. She was built according to the plans for larger vessels, but she was not running at all and no longer had a sail. During that year the Racer captured 293 seals. On July 23rd, Eusèbe Mercier returned to Quebec City because he was suffering from tuberculosis (Eusèbe died in St. Vallier on October 11, 1865). In June 1867, Daniel Costin sold the Salmon Queen to a man from Rimouski and kept the Racer, which was then wrecked at Port-aux-Choix on October 10, 1867. In June 1871, Daniel Costin went back up to Quebec City with his family after having lived almost ten years on the north shore. He died in May 1895.

In June 1911, M. H. Foley, agent for the Gaspé Lumber Co., bought for the company for $18,000, all of the property along the coast that it would hold. The property that it owned there had changed names several times since 1861, the year it was settled by Eusèbe Mercier from Berthier." Reference: End of Vol. 23, No. 3 - Fall 2007.

Regimental Sergeant-Major Mario Mercier Killed in action

Wednesday, August 22, 2007, Regimental Sergeant-Major Mario Mercier died in action during military maneuvers in Afghanistan.

He is the second soldier from the Valcartier base to die during the conflict, together with Master Corporal Christian Deschênes, when their military vehicle exploded on a road side bomb.

Regimental Sergeant-Major Mario Mercier was part of the regular force attached to the Saint-Laurent Fusiliers Militia Unit based in Rimouski. He was part of the training team responsible for the training of recruits and for the supervision of non-commissioned officers, as well as their training program.

The Commanding Officer of the Saint-Laurent Fusiliers, Bernard Bastille, recognized Mario Mercier for having the best qualities to be found in a non-commissioned officer and commanded him for it.

“He was a professional military man, fair and loyal,” according to Commander Bastille. As a soldier he was a model non-commissioned. As a person, he was warm. He was liked and appreciated by non-commissioned officers and commissioned officers alike.

After twenty years of service, this career military man was planning to retire. Afghanistan was his fourth mission with the Canadian Armed Forces. He had hoped to retire from full-time service in order to devote his time to the militia unit in Rimouski. His talents were required as a non-commissioned officer for the training of young recruits numbering about 100 every year in Rimouski.

He leaves behind his wife and three children. His wife, Lucie Ardouin, indicated in a press release that her husband has always been an honest man who believed in the afghan mission as much as he believed in life.

Mario was nicknamed ‘papa ours’ (Teddy bear dad) by his army colleagues. His collection of plush teddy bears will remain in Afghanistan in an effort to inspire other people towards a better life.

During the annual general meeting of its members in Rimouski on August 25, AMAN highlighted the loss of this great man and offered its condolences to his family.
