

Le Mercien

Voice of the Mercier of North America

www.famillesmercier.org

I thank the Association of Mercier of North America to have chosen to hold its 27th annual meeting in Saint-Jérôme. I want to emphasize that we have in Saint-Jérôme many representatives of the great family of the Merciers

A link between Mercier and Saint-Jérôme has long existed in the great book of history. Indeed, someone called Honoré, once promoted our famous “curé” Labelle as Minister of Agriculture and colonization. Thanks to them, the equally famous train of the North to the countries amounted to up and halted in the Old Train Station, the very place of your gathering.

Have a good annual meeting and a pleasant stay in our city.

Marc Gascon, Mayor of Saint-Jérôme.

We are proud to perpetuate that name today.

By Jean Mercier (1)

We here a few weeks before our annual meeting. This is an important event because it is a significant portion of its content that is required by law which governs this type of company: financial report, election of directors, appointment of an auditor, etc..

But it can be much more, as for exchange among members on topics such as:

- a) expectations, suggestions on the content of our website, Facebook and Le Mercier.
- b) interest on the possibility of exchanging or otherwise make available, between members of genealogical data.
- c) a user-friendly communication for our daily genealogy.
- d) anything that goes through your head, you are the members after all.

You saw in the last newsletter that everything has been implemented to make this a mandatory meeting not to be missed opportunity to boost our organization, make it more effective and more user friendly. For you to be present.

As promised you will find some texts tribute to Pierre-Paul and André, two excellent collaborators that will not be soon forget.

And mercy to all sin, we include for a new formula for those who are late with their renewal of the annual fee. A return envelope accompanied this newsletter.

Finally to complete everything from birthdays to weddings, MERCIER in the news, necrologies, and a bit of everything.

Happy reading

On 27 August, at the time of your visit, I will talk passionately about my beautiful town of Saint-Jérôme.

I arrived in 1808 as the "village" was only 34 years old. I saw it grow in my 23 years of treatment and saw become a "city" in 1881 with the title of Capital of the Laurentians.

I will also talk about people here, their lifestyle and their history.

Hope to meet you there.

Pierre-Paul Mercier 1935-2001

We could have a better choice for us to tell Pierre-Paul, his life and his works, his two children. They kindly make available the tributes they have written on the occasion of his funeral. Sincere thanks.

Remember he was a member of AMAN since the very beginning (No. 19), served on the board of directors from 1997 to 2011, year of death and was president from 1999 to 2008. From 2002 to 2008, he assumed the writing of our newsletter Le Mercier. In this role, he has built a significant portion of the tasks of translation and layout, saving large sums in AMAN.

Hello, thank you and goodbye from all of us. Now let Marie-Claude Benoit and talk about their father Life

The life of Pierre-Paul Mercier

Born into a working class family based in heart of the Plateau, and angle Parthenais Mont-Royal, the young Pierre-Paul, an only child, found in numerous cousins, the companions of his childhood. Indeed, there are seven uncles / aunts in Mercier and eighteen on the maternal side, the Laurin.

His mother intended to special education for a middle child: primary school in a religious and classical studies at Holy Cross Classic Externat Sherbrooke Street.

From his eighteenth year, to fill his summers, Pierre-Paul is participating in a training program for officers in the Canadian Armed Forces. He eventually gets a rank of captain. Assigned to the military camp in the small town of Farnham in the Cantons de l'Est, he met his future wife Carmen Dupont. The marriage takes place in Farnham May 31, 1958. It must be said that the stepmother was a foregone conclusion: it was she who introduced the young lovebirds to each other!

Pierre-Paul continued his studies at the Ecole des Hautes Etudes Commerciales and became a chartered accountant. Recruited by a firm of accountants, he accepted a position as auditor.

Hôpital Jean-Talon, while looking for a chief financial officer, is for the firm to fill the position. Pierre-Paul is engaged and then he will assume the management of finance at the University Hospital of Sherbrooke and the Montreal General Hospital. He worked for over twenty years in the health care system, until the late 1980s.

It was during the sale of the duplex rue Bossuet lives and the couple shares with their first-born Benedict, for the move to Sherbrooke in 1968, Pierre-Paul grabs the bite of real estate. It starts with investing in a first apartment building.

The family returned to Sherbrooke a few years later with a second child, Marie-Claude, and settled in Saint-Lambert in suburban Montreal, where Peter Paul and Carmen were still residing on the death of the latter.

He invested over the years in several buildings, passion sets the stage for a second career. In 1982, he first offers of property management services. Following his departure from the health care system, he began brokering real estate. It is self-employed until his retirement in 2008.

Over sixty, Pierre-Paul looks at the history and genealogy. He has been first to establish his lineage Mercier and published his first book on its origins, and Napoleon Mercier Alphonsine Chartier 1557-1998. This work led him to volunteer at the Genealogy Club of Longueuil and in AMAN.

He remains physically active, with whom he plays tennis every week for thirty years, and reviving a happy youth cycling. Less loaded his schedule also allows it to engage in the practice of golf. Travel is the appointment, his wife and himself had traveled to Europe several times with carefully routes established by Pierre-Paul. La dolce vita cruise ship also allows him to relax on occasion.

His last years were devoted to genealogical research and publishing a second book on her mother's family this time, titled Toussaint Laurin and Celina Bougret-Dufort, Family Album 1655-2010. His two grandchildren, Daniel and Sophie will one day see a wealth of information on their origins in the works bequeathed by imposing their grandfather.

True to his alma mater, Pierre-Paul maintains over the years relations with the former Holy Cross, now the College Maisonneuve. As president of the Alumni Association, he oversees the publication of a history of the college and create scholarships for students of the College Maisonneuve, one will be known as the Stock Exchange of Pierre-Paul Mercier Alumni Association of St. Croix.

The route of Pierre-Paul ended on February 13 after a hard fight against lung cancer. He was 76.

His daughter Marie-Claude

Pierre-Paul Mercier to his son

The role of a father is traditionally the livelihood and discipline, but the role of my father who marked me the most was that of advisor.

Throughout my life my father was a resource person for me, either for help with homework (I remember the sessions in algebra very difficult at the start) for my university management (if you like physics, but you do not want to become a teacher by graduating, do engineering) for financial advice (savings, budget, investments, etc.). His experience in the business I have been awfully helpful throughout my career whether for how to write a letter of job application, how to negotiate a raise or how to deal with difficult people at work.

It was also in the space of one month in 1987 I entered the job market after graduating, and that he was retiring from the Montreal General Hospital following a merger with the Royal Vic. This retreat was not a work stoppage - quite the contrary - but rather the beginning of a second career for him. Indeed, after investing in real estate for several decades, he ran head-on in managing and selling real estate, which he practiced until two years ago.

It taught me that life does not stop at retirement but it's an opportunity for a change of direction or any renewal. It also showed me that we must stay active mentally and socially - not to mention physically - in order to fully enjoy life As you get older.

This second career for me was also a manifestation of certain values that father had very promptly - the work ethic, to be conscientious and diligent hard even in the pursuit of a goal - and he taught me. I apply these values to work and also some aspects of my personal life.

The importance of education was another value that I passed, and he tried to convince my son also, even if it sometimes it warmed the ears. My father was born to a working class family in Montreal's east end - his father was a tram driver and bus and his mother was a housewife - but he had the chance to make his classical studies with financial assistance from the family. I think this experience has marked and has always wanted to do well whether at school or work because of the chance he received.

A passion that was shared genealogy. I became interested when my son was born, and that's when my father had revealed that there was also interested shortly after my birth. He began to draw a family tree by talking with family members, but was arrested in the generation of his grandfather. I resumed the search for a few years by visiting cemeteries and special libraries during my visits to Montreal, but he finally managed to find our ancestors and who moreover wrote two books about it. Her love for genealogy and history led him to become involved as a volunteer in the genealogical and cultural associations - either as president of the Association of Mercers of North America or as a board member of the old college Ste-Croix.

My father was also a lover of good food and good wines, but also had a soft spot for digestive (calvados, apple of burgundy, Mandarin Napoleon, etc).. I remember many Sunday dinners at the restaurant, where each chose a different dish so we can all taste it. I forwarded the openness to try something new to my children culinary point of view, but I'm also used throughout my life in different situations. Another lesson I learned from my father.

Now my father is gone, but he passed the torch with which I have in my turn inform my family.

His son Benoît

A Generous and fructuous Career... André Mercier

André (189) is a member of AMAN since its founding in 1985 by Ernest and his commitment to both the AMAN and among its citizens was constant. A few weeks ago he decided to take early retirement very well deserved. We wish to remind the main steps of a rich career.

The "Magnymontoises" Years

André was born in Montmagny August 6, 1929. He is the son of Honoré Mercier and Antoinette Laurendeau. Married to Lucille Létourneau, he is the father of Francois and Louis and two small son, Frederick and Felix.

Following college at Sacred Heart College in Montmagny, he enrolled in various courses related to administration and communication.

In the following years, he worked for the Quebec Power, will be director of the station and President of Alleghenies Radio CKBM Inc., owner of the station.

During this period André has been involved in various community activities such as a) Secretary of the Junior Chamber, b) Director and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and the Regional Montmagny, c) President of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul de Saint-Mathieu, d) Director of the supervisory board of the credit union Saint-Mathieu, e) Chair of the Lions Club, f) the Club Business, g) radio advertising director of the Red Cross in the county of Montmagny, h) Chief Information Officer of the municipal emergency of Montmagny i) Director and Secretary of the Economic of Montmagny.

In recognition of more than deserved, the mayor of Montmagny Jean-Claude Croteau, gave him during the evening of the builders, as part of the festivities of the 350th anniversary of the Lordship of Rivière-du-Sud June 20 1996, the Medal of the builder.

The Quebec Year

The year 1976 marks the arrival of the family in the Old Capital, where prior to his retirement in 1995, he has the management of a gallery of paintings in Ste-Foy and from 1979 to 1995, the function of agent information to the secretariat of the National Assembly since 1990, including that of Deputy Sergeant at Arms and responsible pages.

From its inception the Association of Mercier in North America benefited from his good services: a) In 1986 he joined the board of directors, a position he held until 1995 b) the following year he accept the responsibilities of president and coordinator of the Rally 1987 c) in order not to lose the hand, Andre adds to his hobby that of publicist and archivist in 1988 and treasure up these (not his) days last d) finally in 1989 the board of directors believe that it could be a good president, he will show them for three years e) finding the monotonous life he can not resist the invitation to coordinate the Rally in 1997.

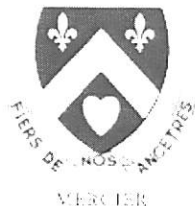

André was also involved with the Federation of Families stem, body closely linked to family associations.

He was particularly include a) a member of the organizing committee of the congress marking the 10th anniversary of the Federation b) Second Vice-President in 1995-1996 c) Secretary in 1996-1997 and c) project manager to achieve the first four publication of the Collection "founding families" of the Federation.

We must realize that each of these functions, whether at the time or Montmagny Quebec, includes a variety of tasks and activities and lead by force of circumstance implications that affect the family and particularly the spouse, availability and the portfolio. Moreover, and this is not negligible, they are a source of recovery and help maintain a social network.

Lucille has frequently worked in various capacities in the activities of André and hope that she withdrew some advantages. But we can not ignore that in circumstances still too frequent these occupations have drawbacks which it would rather do without. Our thanks go to André for Lucille, and they are well deserved.

Mercier Association of North America (AMAN) operates a website recently updated and made very user friendly. During the past year, 1948 users of 43 different countries have visited our site. The vast majority of these visitors were Canadian, but also many French and Americans. They have mostly viewed the pages on the founding families and those on the origin of Mercier. The visits are distributed throughout the year but are most numerous in March and November. The return of warm weather in May marked a decline in ridership.

Visitors can also find the site information about Emeritus Mercier, description of arms, the future activities of AMAN, a summary of articles in the latest newsletter The Mercian and an index of articles in the period 1985 to 2001. It also includes the presentation of the first three generations of founding families: Charles Lajoie said, Jullien, Pierre said Caudebec, Pierre and Pierre-Simon.

A list of useful links is provided for those interested in genealogy. A photo gallery "Mercier in pictures" to discover historic sites in France associated with Mercier. Many other topics are to be discovered.

The site allows visitors to contact the leaders of the AMAN to formulate requests for information or simply to deliver impressions or comments. It is also possible to join the Facebook group, Mercier Association of North America, through the site, which allows you to receive regular updates on the Mercier and friends.

Members of the Board of AMAN is proud to share with you new ways of information and communications and want you to take advantage.

Diamond and Rosewood Weddings

Lucie Mercier and Fernand Daigle

Lucia and Fernando have celebrated on 14 and 15 May their diamond wedding at the Hotel Clarendon in Quebec City. The Daigle-Mercier couple lives in Plessisville since the year of their marriage in 1950. They have four children, two daughters, Jocelyn and Suzie, two sons, Jacques and Sylvain and three grandchildren.

Lucie has been many years (24 years) employed by the city of Plessisville and during its 20 years of service in 1994, the National Union of Municipal Employees honored him by awarding him a plaque. The dedication and volunteerism have always been part of his life. AMAN member from the very beginning (126), very active in the regional committee of the Bois-Francs, she served on the board of directors of the AMAN from 1992 to 2008 and was president from 1995 to 1997.

Fernando worked for his part in during 47 years at Forano as a modeler and department head.

On the same occasion the family and friends also stressed the wedding of rosewood (65th anniversary) and Cécile Mercier Fernand Nadeau. Cecile is the cousin of Lucia. The recipe for this couple happy and healthy we are summed up by Cecile "I get up and walk every day at 6 pm 30 am. My husband works, meanwhile, twice a day, either in the morning around 8 am and the afternoon. "She added that health does not come from itself. Walking is not only their favorite activity, scrabble, reading and cards are also part of their daily lives, both enjoying it fully. "We take care as you can and live one day at a time", concluded Ms. Nadeau. ⁽¹⁾

Julienne Mercier and Lucien Brouillette — 60 years of mariage

When Louis Mercier III married Agnes in St-Roch Poulin The Bass October 22, 1855, I do not think he could imagine at that time, that his descendants would occupy one day of prestigious management positions voluntary organizations in the region and outside.

But it is mostly the children of Téléspore Mercier grand son of Louis Mercier III that were most active. Michel (485), Lawrence (450), Julienne (481), Real (2050), Agnes (483) and Denise (210), were all members of AMAN, many are life members and Michel was Chairman of AMAN from 1997 to 1999.

On June 4 by a wonderful sunny day marks the 60th anniversary of Julian and Lucien Brouillette Mercier St-Esprit de Montcalm. About 200 people attended the garden party on the family farm now owned by their son Alain

The beginning of this link is several years earlier to the Holy Spirit, when one evening in May, while Julian and his sister Monique attended a show in the basement of the church, young men, wanting to help Providence, took place alongside the most beautiful girls in the evening, Lucien Brouillette was one of them. This was not his surprise and joy of receiving an invitation to the following Saturday.

Obviously, he was at the rendezvous. Thus began a long love affair that has lasted 60 years. Indeed, with his brother Lucien always present in his life, they lived beautiful moments ...

Julian and Lucien, all MERCIER congratulate you and wish you more wonderful years of happiness.

A bit or everything

This is the time to renew our subscription to the AMAN and in one of the result is 100%. Congratulations to France for our unique member, Francois Mercier, sent us the following note: "Enclosed is a check for 25 euros for the accession of the year. I dreamed always be here for a general meeting Now I think it's hopeless, with all my regrets. " Thank you Francis, we will have a good thought for you. Little fantasy by the way, Francis has spent at current exchange rates $ 33.99 for membership in the AMAN and after collecting $ 11 fee from the bank, cashed the AMAN $ 22.99. No comment.

Before leaving the country of our ancestors, here is a contact request from another cousin, Dany Mercier. "Merci@free.fr" who sent us several months ago following a few bits: "I send you a friendly hello from France.

I had the opportunity as an amateur genealogist since 1973, to meet with several members of your association with the late Ernest MERCIER December 28, 1991 in Perche Tourouvre during a visit organized by travel LAMBERT I think. I have had the honor to breakfast next to him at that meeting.

I could also see the remains of Julien MERCIER ancestor of many members of your association.

On this occasion I presented my ancestry MERCIER which is located in Sarthe Villaines-sous-Luce and the Grand-Luce in 1646. The meeting which began at age 20 remains an excellent memory for me.

Greetings to all very friendly. Dany M. MERCIER which is also "proud of his ancestors" The 78 Parray en Yvelines, France.

The Charlesbourgexpress published in its May 25 edition of the following article which highlights the commitment of a very deserving member of the family MERCIER. Congratulations Rosalie Mercier received the merits of engagement in extracurricular activities awarded by the Federation of private educational institutions. The second high school student from St. John Eudes was distinguished by his involvement in the student council. In addition, she participated in various activities of student life and managed to combine academic work, school engagement, volunteerism, music and swimming. The awards program of academic engagement officially recognizes students who distinguish themselves by the quality of their involvement in various extracurricular activities and who, through their leadership, help make their school a dynamic and challenging life.

Thank you to those who renewed their annual contribution
